

Update Bulletin 2.2.1.28

Hello

Portions of the current update have been requested by various users and have finally made their way to the runtime version. Since many features are packed together a special bulletin beyond the standard "What's New" text has been provided.

A new page similar to that of Edit|Preferences has been placed here. The original page has been deleted. Thus all project editing will be done here and Edit|Pref will only be used for technical settings.

A new item is to allow mass editing of ALL labor rates from one location. Initially the edit boxes will show an average rate currently used. Both types of labor may be edited here

WARNING - this will modify the rates for ALL labor items.
